

CINDY SCHLUBEIER

Integration and Training Manager

As the Integration and Training Manager for The DeBruce Foundation, Cindy Schluckebier coaches and trains educators, after school providers, and other stakeholders to help them understand and implement the Agilities into their work. Prior to this position, Cindy was an entrepreneur and an educator. In her classroom she implemented The Foundation's assets with success. In these experiences Cindy found a passion for coaching youth to solve life's challenges and overcome obstacles. Now, she is inspired to share her stories and coach others to utilize The Foundation's assets.

Cindy received her Master of Education degree in Education Technology from William Woods University and her Educational Specialist degree in Learning in Technologies and Design with an emphasis in Technology in Schools from the University of Missouri.
