

JAHAIRA AGUILAR

Operations and Partnerships Liaison

As an Operations and Partnerships Liaison, Jahaira Aguilar plays a key role in managing events and engaging organizational partners. She provides administrative support and contributes to strategic initiatives that enhance The DeBruce Foundation's impact.

Jahaira is a dynamic nonprofit professional with a decade of experience supporting executive operations, managing multisectoral collaborations, and delivering seamless events across Kansas City's communities.

In prior roles, Jahaira managed logistics, communications, and community engagement across Kansas City's cultural, nonprofit, and small business sectors. She has a proven ability to plan and execute high-profile events, oversee project timelines and budgets, and coordinate effectively with diversely talented teams, vendors, and stakeholders.

She is skilled in strategic communications, digital marketing, and client relationship management. Jahaira is known for her professionalism, adaptability, and collaborative approach to advancing organizational missions. She enjoys connecting with others and learning about what makes them unique.

Her top three Agilities, Developing Others, Selling and Communicating, and Inspecting, reflect her commitment to growth, clarity, and precision. She is excited to utilize her Agilities to advance The Foundation's mission of expanding career pathways.

In her free time, Jahaira enjoys playing with her two children outside and staying active.
